THIRTY-FIFTH YEAR. NO. 1.

CEARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1913.

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR.

R. P. Annual Dinner.

The Reformed Presbyterian congregation, Main Street, held their annual dinner New Year's day. At 12 o'clock the greater part of the congregation sat down to a sumptuous feast which all heartily enjoyed. At the close of the dinner on behalf of the congregation Dr. W. R. McClesney presented the pastor, Rev. Mills J. Taylor with a purse of between $50 and $70. Rev. Taylor responded in a most appreciative manner. The congregation appreciated Rev. Taylor's splendid character and services.

The annual business meeting of the Sabbath School will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The election of officers, hearing of reports and new business of importance will come up. All the members are urged to be present.

Body Arrives Friday Morning.

The body of Ambassador Whitehead arrived in New York, Friday morning and will be taken from the British warship, conveyed by a number of U. S. war vessels, opposite Grand Point and then to the Cathedral of St. John's, the Divine where funeral services will be held Saturday.

Mrs. Reid, her daughter, Mrs. Ward, and son, Ogdan Mills, have arrived from London. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Conley arrived in New York City Tuesday and went direct to the Ambassador's home where they were received by Mrs. Reid.

NOTES OF AN OBSERVER.

Sanctifying over the streets of the good town of Cedarville on a winter afternoon—the tinge of frost on the snappy air, the cheery whistle of the locomotive, the busy streets of the old town present a pleasing setting to the season of good will.

We observe a team of decrepit old horses just relieved from the burden of drawing a heavy load of wood. This seems to be a depressing note in an otherwise happy scene. It should seem that the good will flowing out to men should overflow in kindness to helpless creatures within our power. It is no kindness to an unfeeling master to permit him to persistently abuse his miserable horses. The use of which is abuse of crippled old horses may be seen occasionally in our village. There is a certain fellow in our village who has made a practice for years—as we remember—of abusing a team of decrepit, crippled old horses until they sink on to their graves and this we believe, without a single protest from the community. Is remembrance offered against such conduct as the writer knew, met with no encouraging response.

What about the person who puts these helpless creatures into his power? Furthermore should employers of labor refuse to employ such a wretched team of horses and their unfeeling master, it might remedy the situation greatly. "A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast," declares the sacred scriptures. It should be expected also that he would regard the life of the beast he employs.

Should moderate means fail to amend the conduct of offenders against humane feeling, a dose of the law might prove beneficial.

It is a violation of the statute to put a weak, infirm team to labor and emphatically so, to the labor that a strong team should perform. The writer is willing to do his part in the matter of enforcing this statute, if he has support from the community.

What is the use of attempting to beautify our streets, if our humane feelings are to be outraged by such scenes of unfeeling by abuse visited on helpless creatures that have long since earned the right to be laid to rest.

Fifty centuries later—we will copy into our communal life the Hebrew poets finishing stroke of the description of the happy city—"That there be no outcry in our streets."

These dumb creatures in their pitiable helplessness cry out to us.

Antioch Ousted From Association.

Antioch College, Yellow Springs, has been ousted from membership in the State College Association at a meeting in Columbus last Friday and Saturday. The only cause announced for this action was that Antioch had not the required endowment and sufficient instructors and the members of the association voted to drop the institution from the list.

At the commencement exercises last summer President Fess announced that his greatest desire to go to congress was to attract Eastern money to Antioch. Now that he has part of his ambition realized in election all he has to do is to attract the money.

1913! One year nearer the eternity we must spend somewhere in west or east.

Whether in work or sport "Don't flinch, don't foul, and hit the line hard."

The Holy Spirit did not exhaust Himself at the beginning. New Pentecosts are bending low in the heavens, looking for men through whom they can reach the careless Christians in our churches and the unconverted in our neighborhoods.

We are trying to find the origin of life in the alme of the ocean bed. We are making evolution a power instead of a method, and our vision of the Creator is veiled by His creation. This day needs a religion of which God is the center—not man.

Look up and not down. Look forward and not back. Look out and not in and lend a hand.

William Ferguson will lead the Christian Union Sabbath evening.

If any one is not getting the Cedarville Herald with the Clifton U. P. Church Chimes please report to Mr. Collins or the Pastor.

Dr. Ritchie, who has been visiting in Southern Illinois his old home, and where he was pastor for fifteen years has returned and will be in the pulpit next Sabbath as usual.

Miss Mac Corry who has scarlet fever at the County home in Xenia is reported getting along nicely.

The Christmas program went off fine. Two well-laden trees were much in evidence. The music too was inspiring and then Santa Claus came in to dispense the treat.

A hearty vote of thanks is due the decorating committee for their work. Xmas eve.

Mrs. John A. Gregg and son William of Philadelphia are spending the holidays at the Parsonage.

The Y. P. C. U. presented the Pastor and family a splendid waterproof Carriage robe for Christmas.

If you are not getting the Men's Record and Missionary Review let Pastor or Mr. Collins know.

Mrs. J. E. H. and son, James, of Xenia worshipped with us last Sabbath. Miss Kyle has been a teacher in Cairo Egypt and will return as a Missionary.

Dr. R. T. Campbell of Sterling Kansas preached an excellent sermon last Sabbath at the Clifton church. Dr. Campbell's boyhood was spent here but he had not visited here for 23 years.

The Pastor and family spent New Year's at Mr. Albert Ferguson's and Friday at Mr. Jas. M. Waddle's.

It is interesting to note how much good the money that is spent for worship would do if it were spent for the betterment of civilization.

It is said that the battleship Florida cost six millions of dollars. If this had been spent for the development of Florida, it would have built a system of good roads throughout the state, drained many swamps, built a high school in every county founded and endowed as many colleges as the state needs, and founded as many hospitals and libraries as the state could use.

Recent figures compiled show that in 87 prominent colleges in the country 25 per cent of the students are studying to be teachers, 30 per cent to be business men, 15 per cent to be lawyers, 5 per cent to doctors and 5 per cent to be ministers. "Think of it!"

This great revivalist preached doctrine constantly. George Whitfield was preaching "You must be born again," when 1,600 souls were saved. These men did not mince matters. They spoke of sin and its penalty in burning words. Did Bunyan start his pilgrim from some easy, quiet city? He started him from the City of Destruction—from which every sinner starts. What we need, is to get these doctrines back into our pulpits and prayer meetings. We may well get away from our fine rhetoric and psychology, only, and proclaim the Word of God with power.

"Every promise of Scripture is a writing of God, which may be pleaded before Him with this reasonable request: 'Do as Thou hast said.'" The Creator will not cheat His creature who depends upon His truth; and, far more, the Heavenly Father will not break His word to His own child. "Remember the word unto Thy servant, on which Thou hast caused me to hope." It is a double argument: It is Thy Word, wilt Thou not keep it? Why hast Thou spoken of it if Thou wilt not make it good? Thou hast caused me to hope in it; wilt Thou disappoint the hope which Thou hast Thyself begotten in me?"

D. L. Moody was accustomed to say, "It is a great thing to lead one soul from the darkness of sin into the glorious light of the Gospel. I believe if an angel were to wing his way from earth up to Heaven, and were to say that there was one poor, ragged boy, without father or mother, with no one to care for him and teach him the way of life; and if God were to ask who among them were willing to come down to this earth and live here for fifty years had lead that one to Jesus Christ, every angel in Heaven would volunteer to go. Even Gabriel, who stands in the presence of the Almighty, would say, "Let me leave my high and holy position, and let me have the glory of leading one soul to Jesus Christ." There it no greater honor than to be the instrument in God's hands of leading one person out of the kingdom of Satan into the glorious life of Heaven."

Autos Must Have New Tags.

Under the new law all owners of automobiles must have the new 1913 tag of white and yellow as issued by the automobile department of the secretary of state.

Last year the department was unable to furnish tags and an extension of twenty days after the first was granted but this will not be necessary this year and the peace officers are requested to see that the law is enforced and all autolists not having the new tags to be placed under arrest.

Car owners then see the need of filing their applications at once for this will be the only way machines can be used on the highways.

New Trials Were Denied.

Prosecutor Johnson for the state, and Harry Armstrong for the defendant, Isaac Wisterman, appeared in Mayor Bull's court Tuesday to argue the motion for new trials in the cases where the defendant had been found guilty of keeping a place and selling liquor without a prescription.

The Mayor overruled the motion and assessed the following fines: Keeping a place $200; keeping a place, second charge as result of second raid $200. Five charges for sales to George Shinglesaker at various times, $925; two charges on sales to Roy Matthews, $475; one to Marion Buchanan, $250; Robert Taylor, $500.

The total amount of the fines is $3,450, the costs in the cases to date $119.35. Bond was fixed at $2,500 which must be signed before appeal to a high court can be obtained.

Eastern Manufacturers' Surplus Stock Sale!

The Choicest Styles! The Biggest Assortment!

The Best Values! A Sale Positively Without An Equal!

This is the season of Sales. Merchants everywhere are closing out the remnants of their Fall and Winter stock; odds and ends left from a season's selling—with us the case is different. Our Mr. S. Margolis and a corps of buyers spent the last two weeks of November scouring New York for merchandise for this sale. The object was to offer to the Dayton public not the odds and end usually offered at this time of the year, but practically a new Winter stock consisting of the very latest Winter Models and most wanted fabrics in Ready-to-Wear Garments and the best number in the various other lines we handle. The tremendous business we were doing this Fall and Winter convinced us that very little of our stocks would be left over when January 1st came. Realizing that merchants as a rule had ceased their buying of Winter goods when these purchases were about to be made, we knew we could go to the 40 or more manufacturers whom we had in mind and practically dictate the price for their merchandise. How well these buyers succeeded we want YOU to judge. We will say, however,

Never in Dayton's History was such a Complete Stock of Desirable Merchandise Offered at Such Tremendous Reductions! Sale Starts Thursday A. M., January 2nd, at 8 O'clock—Come Prepared to See the Biggest Values of Your Life—And Better Still, Get Them!

FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1918.

A Connecticut millionaire has married a milliner. Is there no way to stop this reckless concentration of wealth?

Over one-half of the world's production of tin is consumed in this country. This is indeed a good deal of a country.

Balloon racing deserves greater popularity, as the skidding on the half-pipe curves is therein reduced to a minimum.

Nobody denies that automobiles are becoming cheaper, but then one can not sit even the costliest cuts of an automobile.

A champion football player appears quite as essential to the progress of higher education as an endowed chair of philosophy.

Correct pronunciation is a great thing, but the truly hungry man will say "prone" to the waitress when he wants prunes.

A bumper tobacco crop also will make it harder than usual to break off that smoking habit next year when January rolls around.

Now that they are shooting ducks from aeroplanes, we shall next hear that aviator sportsmen are using sky-terriers for retrievers.

It will be tough luck for the victims of rheumatism if the department of agriculture succeeds in making all American bees stingless.

An English literary visitor has declared that Chicago is a "pure" city, and at last accounts he had not been sandbagged by any New Yorker.

A school for society novices has been opened in Washington. Probably the principal text-books used are the blue book and the check book.

Just as people are turning hopefully to a vegetable diet, the jewellers adopt a carat that is two and one-half per cent lighter than the old one.

If the papers furnished a pronouncing vocabulary of Balkan proper names, general discussion of the war in the East would be noticeably more glib.

A man married 11 times, cannot remember the name of two of his wives. But probably he can remember some of the things they said to him.

The invention of a gun that will bring down an aeroplane from a height of 5,000 feet is announced. But the reason is not stated for anticipating a sure thing.

The Kansas City woman who paid $50 for a husband must be a bull in a market, for she had beyond all known demand employing a price clearly speculative.

Now the stage is running to widows. We have the "merry," the "winsome" and the "red" varieties to consider. Which recalls Tony Voller's celebrated advice to Samivel.

Some nervous people are saying that the war in southeastern Europe is a sign of the approaching end of the world, but the landlords are asking for their rent just the same.

That the new side whiskers must curl out in front is the latest information on that important subject. Perhaps for use as sweepers when hunting for the collar button under the bed.

A pneumatic rug has been invented for auto bugs to stretch themselves upon while they tinker under their machines. Couldn't something like that be discovered to break the fall of aviators?

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By R. O. SELLERS, Director of Training Department The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 5.

THE CREATION.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31.

GOLDEN TEXT—"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." Gen. 1:1.

In our scheme of lessons we return to the Old Testament and confine our study for the ensuing year to the first six books of the Bible.

The word Genesis means "beginnings," and in the book of that name we see recorded all the information of the beginning of things that our heavenly father deemed necessary in the development of the scheme of redemption.

After all the assaults of its enemies, and of the skeptics, the first verse of the book of Genesis contains all the clear, concise, and positive knowledge man possesses about the origin of this Universe.

"God is all and all is God." Faith has been around upon which to stand. "In the beginning God created," therefore he is above and was before the heaven and the earth.

The beginning of all right thinking and true living, of every proper relation of life, is God and yet we are withholding that knowledge from young America upon the specious plea that the bible is sectarian.

Truth of the Trinity.

Following this statement of the creation comes the story of rehabilitation, for the words in verse two denote waste, void, or confusion and one Hebrew scholar contends for the word "ruin." See also Isa. 45:18 R. V. Thus it seems that upon this created earth there must have come a judgment, presumably upon some pre-existent race and that what follows, verse two, is not the original creation but the steps whereby this earth was made ready as a habitation for man.

Lord Kelvin said, "scientific thought is compelled to accept the idea of creative power." There is a wonderful agreement between modern science and the account in Genesis: (1) The biblical accounts of the evolution of life, the evolution of the earth, and the evolution of the universe.

The great truth of the trinity is revealed in these first three verses (1) God, v. 1; (2) Spirit, v. 2; and (3) "God said," v. 3, see John 1:1.

"Verse five does it all, the light a day meaning twelve hours, but rather a period of time just as we speak of an Arctic day," which is six months.

Animal life cannot assimilate these elements unless they are already fixed in organic vegetable life. How and where life originated no science has discovered. Pasteur's dictum that "it is nothing but life which generates life," still stands unshaken. And so the constant and only satisfactory answer to the questions, how, where and why, of all these things of this material universe is God. God created, God made, he created, and then set into being the forces and laws whereby the earth, the sky, the sun and the moon have gone on with unbroken regularity. He made possible those processes whereby man develops, the oak grows, and animal and vegetable life reproduces each after its own kind.

But creation was not yet complete. Man, the last created, was the crowning glory of this earthly creation. Verses 26-30 will be studied in connection with next week's lesson and are referred to here simply to give a complete account of creation. It would be well, however, to refer to the fact that the great God and creator made provision for the immortal souls of mankind by arranging for his training in the knowledge and character of himself, the father, by the institution of the Sabbath, as soon as he had prepared a place in which man was to dwell.

The dignity and majesty of the language of Genesis is sublime. Astronomers tell us that our sun and solar system is only one of perhaps a million others. A recent writer tells us that a ray of light which would travel the equivalent of nine times around the earth in one second would take nine years to travel across the great nebula in the constellation of Orion. And "God made" all of this. "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God," and it is the next door to the fool who tries to stipulate what God ought or ought not to do.

What a beautiful story this is to tell to children. A mother drew her three-year-old son's attention to the beauty of field and mountain and added "God loves the beautiful and loves little boys too." Neither spoke for a moment. Then the son asked his mother if she were praying. "Yes," said the mother. "Then I want to say prayers too," said the boy. It is a tremendous responsibility to give to others their first idea of God. May God keep us all on this the first Sunday of the New Year to learn the meaning of the first four words of our lesson.

Nautical. Ancient mariners (at the first look-out) "Where's the tackle we bear so much about? Smart Land-lubber—Don't you see the lines all over the ground?" Judge.

Heart Disease Almost Fatal to Young Girl

"My daughter, when thirteen years old, was stricken with heart trouble. She was so bad we had to place her in bed near a window so she could get her breath. One doctor said, 'Poor child, she is likely to fall dead any time.' A friend told me Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy had cured her father, so I tried it, and she began to improve. She took a great many bottles, but she is spared to me today."—a father, checked girl. No one can imagine the confidence I have in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy."—A. R. CANTON, Worth, Mo.

The unbounded confidence Mr. Canon has in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is shared by thousands of others who know its value from experience. Many heart disorders yield to treatment, if the treatment is right. ECONOMICAL LIVING

It is a necessity for the majority of people to buy meat to learn to cook those cuts which are cheap, or cheaper than the choice cuts. As meat is one of our most expensive foods, wise buying will lessen the monthly bills. Get a pound of meat cut from the rump of beef, cut the pieces in size for serving, roll in flour and brown in a frying pan with beef drippings or suet.

When well browned, add two table-spoonsful of hot drippings and two table-spoonsful of flour, mix well and add three cups of stock or water; let this boil. In a casserole, put thin slices of a small carrot and onion, and pour over this the boiling mixture with a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of red pepper. Cover and place in a slow oven for an hour.

A medium flank steak if carefully cooked is tender, well flavored and palatable. Score the steak on both sides and sprinkle with a tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar, which softens the fibers, season with salt, pepper, a dash of nutmeg, clove and a little chopped onion. Cover thickly with fine bread crumbs, roll up and fasten well with skewers. Sear over well in a hot frying pan, add a pint of stock or water and bake an hour and a half.

A dish which may be new to some is an old one to many of our friends across the water. Bonny clabber. This is simply milk that has become thick, before it is very acid. If it has stood and acquired cream all the better. Serve as one does a custard, sprinkled with a little grated maple sugar or with brown sugar. It is a most wholesome dish for hot weather, good for all ages and especially good for those who have alimentary troubles.

Junket is another easily prepared food, which is both good and cheap. It is never expensive to buy wilted vegetables or questionable fruit. The waste makes them more costly than those which cost a few cents more.

Nellie Maxwell.
